

ZeroDay Charity

by : Airel, Akhtar, Aiman

INTRODUCTION TO THE ZeroDay Charity

What is it about?

This site helps people find trusted charities and make donations that truly help.

Goals

Making giving easy and meaningful by connecting kind people with real needs.

INTRODUCTION TO THE DESIGN AND CONTENT CHOICES

User-Friendly Design

We made the layout simple so everyone can use the site easily.

Trust & Transparency

The site shares key info about each charity to build trust.

Emotional Engagement

We use images, stories, and progress bars to inspire empathy and action.

Mobile Responsiveness

Since many donate by phone, the site works smoothly on all devices.

WHAT INSPIRED US?

This website was inspired by the crisis in Palestine. With so many in need, we wanted to help people take action. Many want to give but don't know how . This site connects them to trusted charities providing aid.

OUR TARGET AUDIENCE

This site is for caring people who want an easy, trustworthy way to support urgent causes like Palestine.

PROGAMMING LANGUAGE

HyperText Markup Language (HTML)

It is the standard markup language for creating web pages.

Cascading Style Sheets (CSS)

It is a stylesheet language used to describe the presentation of a document written in HTML

JavaScript

It used to create dynamic and interactive websites

to make web pages interactive, while Java is a general-purpose programming language

KEY FEATURES OF THE WEBSITE

Resource Center

- Articles, blogs, and videos educating the community on the cause.
- Newsletters for updates on charity events and initiatives.

Impact Tracker

- Real-time updates on how donations are being used.

FUTURE ENHANCEMENT

More charity options:

We plan to expand the number and variety of charities featured on the website.

Donate in sets:

For example, a user can donate RM10 to provide a box containing essential items like food, hygiene supplies, or baby needs

Donor impact update:

We plan to introduce regular updates showing how the donor's donations are making a difference.

An illustration of two hands shaking. One hand is yellow and the other is brown. There are blue starburst shapes around the hands.

THANK YOU